

2019 NSE Grantees Conference

John N. Parker

NSF, SBE

Bionote

Dr. John N. Parker co-directs NSF's funding programs in Science and Technology Studies and Ethical and Responsible Research. John is an expert in the sociology of science and science and technology studies. His research focuses on social dimensions of scientific collaborations, scientific work life, scientific and intellectual social movements, and scientific creativity. His research has been published in journals like American Sociological Review, Sociological Theory, Social Studies of Science, and Social Psychology Quarterly.